GOEBEL.

Read What the Papers of the State Say of Him.

Clark Not Doubtful.

The enthusiasm displayed at the ratification meeting here leaves no possible doubt of the success of the ticket in Clark county.—Winchester Democrat.

Not Going to Be Fooled.

The statement of Mr. Bryan that he indorses the Democratic ticket in Kentucky should set forever at rest the statements made by the Louisville subsidized press. The people of Kentucky are not going to be fooled by the misrepresentations of two papers in Louisville that are the property of a corporation whose president stated in an open letter that his company intended to fight Mr. Goebel by all means in its power so long as the Democratic nominee persisted in his fight for the present Democratic platform.—Paducah News.

Will Dampen Their Ardor.

Bryan's letter will dampen the ardor of the bolters like a cloudburst on a Fourth of July picnic.—Glasgow News.

The Fool Democrats.

There are from 5,000 to 10,000 fool Democrats in the State whom the Apostle Peter, though he were here, could not please, and the party had, once and for all, made its arrangements to get along without them.—Paducah Leader.

It Was a Failure.

Th bolting meeting has come and gone, and the character and influence of the men who came from a distance to speak at of such low order that it really ought to prove a death blow to any effort to put forward a new ticket. In fact, several Bowling Green gentlemen of character have been greatly weakened in their enthusiasm and admiringly that this element of the meeting was a disappointment. The really good men of the State who had been advertised as prospective speakers refused to come, saving they were with the straight ticket, and not in sympathy with the move. Such gentlemen as Hallam, Myers, Taylor, Hayes, et al., all of whom have grievances, either personal or caused by the draw away enough names to elect Taylor and the Republican ticket.—Paducah News.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

No Middle Ground.

There is no middle ground. Either Kentucky will be Democratic or Republican. Which shall it be? This is the supreme issue.—Paris Kentuckian-Citizen.

Think Before Acting.

The convention that nominated William Goebel, despite the opposition to his name, made the nomination unanimous. Did not that commit the Democratic party to his support? Moreover, it is not good Democratic politics to organize an aid society to the Republican party. Think before you act.—Emmence Constitutional.

A Mystery.

No man in the State has stood higher in the ranks of his party than John Young Brown. As Governor his administration was above reproach; and why he should come out in opposition to Senator Goebel, a man for whom he has always had the highest regard, is a mystery. But the man who for years has been in the pride of the Democratic party in Kentucky has dug his own political grave.—Nicholsville Democrat.

Brown's Inconsistency.

In the declining years of his life John Young Brown has allowed himself to be made the tool of designing politicians, who will use him to further their base purposes. His position in signifying willingness to accept the nomination for Governor at the hands of the bolters reveals some glaring inconsistencies that all the efforts of the political non-descripts, who are the real leaders of the ramp movement, will fail to explain away.—Shelbyville Sentinel.

Goebel's Trustworthiness.

When the late John W. Stevenson placed the property of his wife and daughter in the hands of William Goebel as trustee, without bond, it was one of the very strongest proofs of the latter's worth as a man that one man could give another. Gov. Stevenson, as everyone knows, was one of the ablest and best men in the State.

When he was an old man, Senator Goebel, that boy, began the study of law with Gov. Stevenson. His success in his practice was phenomenal; he was soon taken in the firm, and his office door still bears the old sign "Stevenson & Goebel." Gov. Stevenson, always a prudent man, made a will, and by its terms placed the property of his wife and child in the hands of William Goebel as trustee, the will specifically stating that he was not to give bond. The property, consisting of $250,000 or more, is still in the hands of Senator Goebel. What greater proof can be given of a man's worth? Goebel, without influential friends, a young man, to be trusted by one so careful as Gov. Stevenson is unparalleled in the records of this or any other time, and, better, Goebel is still the trustee of Mr. Stevenson.—Augusta Chronicle.

Will Help Taylor.

The bolt comes about a month too late. The country Democrats have finished eating their crow and most of them are ready to fight the common enemy. In this county Brown was a bolting candidate would help Taylor worse than Goebel.—Hopkinsville Kentuckian.

Few Will Follow Him.

The Leader has always been a warm advocate of Gov. Brown, but we predict that few of the faithful will follow him across the Rubicon in his mad attempt to destroy his party in order to satisfy his personal spite and ambition. We are sorry that Gov. Brown has listened to the rumblings of the L. and N.—Fulton Leader.

Will Sweep the State.

Goebel will be the most popular candidate Kentucky has ever had. He will sweep the State like a whirlwind.—Greenup Democrat.

Will Forfeit Respect.

Should ex-Gov. Brown accept any such nomination he will forfeit the respect of Democrats who believe in the principle of standing by and guarding the interests of the party.

Or, Is For the Ticket.

The News is for the Democratic ticket; has said so and it is so, and will make it so, and that is more than some of the ducks who are squawking at the News will do for the whole ticket in November.—Owenton News.

Party Was Dilatory.

Ex-Gov. Brown announces that he will be only too glad to head an anti-Goebel ticket. He has been anxious to get back into the Governor's chair at Frankfort, but his party has failed to manifest a disposition to help him along.—Mayville Bulletin.

No Bolters In Owensville.

The fact of the business is there's not a single Democrat in Owensville, so far as we know, who will not support the Democratic ticket. There are some four or five who claim to be Democrats that will not vote for Goebel, but this will not be the first time they scratched the ticket.

Little Disaffection.

The Democratic County Committee met in called session last Monday, and it was truly gratifying to hear the reports given by each member of the condition of the party in his precinct. While a little disaffection existed at first, occasioned by the defeat of favorite candidates, the lines have been cleared and the honest Democrats of Shelby county recognize that the defeat of Goebel and the Democratic ticket means the success of the unscrupulous Taylor and his horde of Republicans.—Shelbyville Sentinel.

Playing a "Wax Figure" Part.

Brown Young John pleaded with Goebel's friends to give the nomination only a few minutes before he was nominated. They refused. Brown became angry and sore, and now seeks to disrupt the party that has honored him by playing the part of "wax figure" for the corporations.

Porter's Antiseptic Healing Oil.

Housemen will find this oil will cure scratches, cracked heel, halter burns, oil sores and collar galls. No cure no pay.
For sale by W. S. Lloyd, Mt. Sterling, Ky. 34-cent.

The Lord's Prayer on a Pin.

The limit of fine engravings seems to have been reached by A. Henderson of Toronto, who has just finished the task of engraving the Lord's Prayer upon the stem of an ordinary pin, one inch in length, with the alphabet and the numbers from 1 to 10 on the head.—Jewellers' Circular.

Coughed 25 Years.

I suffered for 25 years with a cough, and spent hundreds of dollars with doctors for medicine to no avail until I used Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey. This remedy makes weak lungs strong. It has saved my life.—J. B. Rosell, Grantsburg, Ill.

Lee County Democracy Speak in Thunder Terms.

At a meeting of the Democrats of Lee county, called to meet at Beattyville July 21st, in the interest of the party, the following resolutions were passed:

Resolved, That we, as Democrats, who have the welfare of our party at heart, denounce the Louisville Dispatch for the effort it is making to defeat the party by trying to encourage bolting and to elect a Republican State ticket.

2d. That all Democrats be warned of the treacherous manner in which the confidence reposed by the Democrats in this paper has been destroyed, and

3d. That the following letter be sent to the Dispatch:

"You have manifested a desire to get an expression from the Democrats of Kentucky as to the State ticket, we, the Democrats of Lee county, shall respond that we are, without a single exception, for the State ticket nominated at Louisville; that we admire Wm. Goebel for his loyalty to party principles, his ability and statesmanship, and have all confidence that he will be elected, and will give us one of the best administrations the State has ever had, and since The Dispatch is using its influence and efforts to defeat the ticket we wish it to answer the following questions:

1st. What is the definition of a bolter?

2d. Is this the first time your officers and managers ever bolted?

3d. How can you reconcile your position as the "Democratic State organ" and bolt the ticket regularly nominated by the party you claim to represent?

4th. When you send your paper to the Democrats of the State free, are you appealing to their ignorance? If not, don't you think the Democrats of the State have intelligence enough to know that you have betrayed them, and have sold out body, breeches and soul to the L. and N. Railroad, and that the editorials now appearing in your paper are the handy work of Basil W. Duke?

5th. Haven't you the intelligence to know that the Democratic masses, whom you hope to reach, are not so ignorant, but that they know that the failure to elect the State ticket means the election of a Republican Legislature and the defeat of Joe Blackburn for the United States Senate, and that the course being pursued by you, if successful, means the loss of the State to Bryan?

6th. Haven't you enough confidence in the intelligence of the Democratic voters of the State to know that, while you are masquerading as the friend of Bryan and silver, they are cognizant of the fact that you are a wolf in sheep's clothing, and that you have your hands in the pockets of the L. and N., and that you are nothing for Bryan, the Chicago platform, Joe Blackburn, or the Democratic party, as long as these conditions exist?

7th. Don't you know that you, having gained the confidence and support of the Democrats of Kentucky, by advocating in the past, the principles so dear to them, are now trying to barter that confidence on what you think an unexpecting people, so that you may clutch from the coffers of the L. and N. a sufficient amount to maintain a newspaper that was fast going into dissolution?—Jackson Hunter.

Lung Irritation

Is the forerunner to consumption Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey will cure it, and give such strength to the lungs that a cough or a cold will not settle there. Twenty-five cents at all good druggists.

Kissing Bug.

That "Kissing Bug" came to Mt. Sterling recently. It was that bug sure and behaved just like all other kissing bugs. It made for the lips of W. P. Guthrie and but for his mustache he doubtless would have been suffering from its poison. It was placed in a box and allowed to remain while Mr. Guthrie waited on a customer when securing a bottle he proceeded to change it from the box and lo! it was a cricket.

FRIENDLY SQUIRRELS.

Come Into the House and Answer When Called by Name.

What can be done in the way of taming squirrels has been well illustrated a good many times in this city, says the Springfield Republican, and nowhere better than at the house and grounds of the Misses Clara, on Ingraham avenue and Union street.

The family began to feed and pet the squirrels about four years ago, and have got them so that they are very tame. They feed them every day, and the squirrels appear as regularly as boarders. They run all over, and when let in through the house play like kittens about the lawn, turning somersaults and performing their graceful capers. The family have become very much attached to them, although the squirrels are sometimes so mischievous that they get out of patience with the little animals. If not let into the house when they expect, they have sometimes gnawed the window sashes and have gnawed the waterpots. The greater part of this has, however, been done by some red squirrels, which are less tractable than the grays. They are intelligent little beasts. The family have named some of them, and the little things knew their names and would come when called. To drive them away when lent on mischief once, some one threw a bowlful of water on one of them, and the little thing darted off with a reproachful look on his face, enough to haunt one for days. To keep them from gnawing it has sometimes been found necessary to daub the window sashes with a mustard preparation, the taste of which they do not like. These squirrels have their nests in a little recess under the eaves, and it is an interesting sight to see the mothers of the family teaching their young ones to climb about the trees and to their nest on the house. One day an old one was taking a young one up a tree to a limb near the house, from which the old one jump a distance of about a yard to the building. The little one was exhausted by the climb; the mother first tried to drive him, then to lead him by going ahead, but to no avail. Finally the old one had to take the little one up and carry him over to the building.

The family have been wondering why these squirrels have diminished in size since they began to feed them. The old ones seem to be driven away by the young ones, so that there is a constant succession of different squirrels, and those now there are not so big, and do not have as good fur as those that were first on the ground. The family have wondered that if constant feeding on nuts had anything to do with it. They have always given them such nuts as filberts and pecans, and have generally cracked the nuts for them, although the squirrels will crack them themselves. But they have got so used to nuts with a comparatively soft shell that they will not crack an ordinary hickory nut, but carry it off and hide it. Such nuts were found hidden in the toe of a boot belonging to a member of the family, behind a pillow on the lounge, and the squirrels will go over to adjoining lots to hide them. Some families in this city who feed squirrels have got them to eat bread and corn, but the Misses Clara's squirrels have lived so high that nothing but nuts will do for them.

BEAT THE TRUST.

Took Large Orders in Advance of a Cut Rate.

"I don't care to mention names," said a visitor from New Jersey, "but this is an absolutely true story of how one man at least beat a big trust at its own game. He was at the head of a small concern making—let us say—car wheels (that's not exactly it, but pretty nearly), and about a year ago he got a private hint that the other car wheel people were arranging a combine. He said nothing, but immediately communicated with several of the largest consumers and by offering confidentially a reduction of about 15 per cent. secured advance orders that would occupy him over two years to fill, running at full capacity. At the price named every wheel would be made at a loss, and his partners were badly scared. He told them to keep their mouths shut and wait. In a few months the trust was organized, according to programme, and one day a bland agent dropped in and offered him a fair price for the plant. He said he didn't care to sell. The trust thereupon proceeded to put on the screws in the usual fashion. In other words, they cut rates, but, strange to say, the little wheelmaker didn't seem to care. Then they made another and much larger cut with the intention of freezing him out at one fell swoop. That was just what he was waiting for, and through a third party he instantly placed orders covering all the contracts he had made at a figure that left him a handsome margin of profit. Without suspecting that the large orders came from their intended victim, the trust people became alarmed at the losses incurred in the freezing-out process and made him another and much better offer for his plant, which he promptly accepted. Now the trust has the concern and is obliged to run it day and night to make wheels at 25 per cent. under actual cost from the man it tried to ruin. As fast as he gets them he turns them over on his contracts and reaps the intermediate profit, while, needless to say, the trust magnates howl with anguish every time they make a delivery. The little wheelmaker got enough out of the sale of the plant to retire for life, and he is carrying out the rest of the campaign merely for sport. He says it's great fun to see a trust on the gridiron."—N. O. Times-Democrat.

THE SIZE OF THE SUN.

How It Compares with the Earth—The Moon's Orbit.

The earth on which we stand is, no doubt, a mighty globe, measuring as it does 8,000 miles in diameter, yet what are its dimensions in comparison with those of the sun? If the earth be represented by a grain of mustard seed, then on the same scale the sun should be represented by a cocoon.

Perhaps, however, a more impressive conception of the dimensions of the great orb of day may be obtained in this way: Think of the moon, the queen of the night, which circles monthly around our heavens, purifying as she does a majestic track, at a distance of 240,000 miles from the earth. Yet the sun is so vast that if it were a hollow ball the moon could revolve in the orbit which it now follows and still be entirely inclosed within the sun's interior.

For every acre on the surface of our globe there are more than 10,000 acres on the surface of the great luminary.

Every portion of this illimitable desert of flame is pouring forth torrents of heat. It has, indeed, been estimated that if the heat which is incessantly flowing through any single square foot of the sun's exterior could be collected and applied beneath the boilers of an Atlantic liner it would suffice to produce steam enough to sustain in continuous movement those engines of 30,000 horse-power which enable a superb ship to break the record between Ireland and America.—Pearson's Weekly.

Armor Plate for Bank Vaults.

A Pittsburgh trust company has lately erected a vault, composed of steel armor plates, which possesses some novel features. It is 194 feet by 164 feet by 94 feet. The entire front of the vault is of a single plate of armor eight inches thick. This is reinforced by a nickel steel plate of the same size, only 94 inches thick. Therefore the total thickness is 144 inches. The door is in the front, and the bolt-work of the door radiates from the center, like spokes from a hub. The armor plates are dovetailed together, and clamped from the inside. If desired, plates 22 inches thick can be used, thus avoiding the use of bolts.—Scientific American.

Interesting History of a College.

Mount Holyoke college was known for 50 years as Mount Holyoke seminary. In 1888 it became Mount Holyoke seminary and college, and in 1893 the seminary was dropped altogether. With the securing of its charter the difficult task of building up the institution began. Prejudice had to be removed, indifference overcome, philanthropy aroused and benevolence called into action. The funds for the first building, $27,000, were collected in sums ranging from six cents, in three instances, to $1,000, in but two, and there were 1,800 subscribers. Mary Lyon, a pupil in the seminary of Rev. Joseph Emerson at Byfield, piloted the movement, and as a result of her untiring labors she has just been called the founder of the college. A deserted spot in Buckland, in the hill country of this state, to which Mount Holyoke girls make summer pilgrimages is now marked by a bronze tablet with this inscription: "Mary Lyon, the founder of Mount Holyoke seminary, was born here February 28, 1797."

APPEARED AT FIRST AS WERE PIMPLES.

Mr. Wm. Watson, of Washburn, S. D., says: "A little blotch about the size of a pea came under my left eye, gradually growing larger, from which shooting pains at intervals ran in all directions. I became greatly alarmed and consulted a good doctor, who pronounced it Cancer, and advised that it be cut out. But this I could not consent to. I read in my local paper of a cure effected by S. S. S., and decided to try it. It acted like a charm. The Cancer becoming at first irritated, and then discharging freely. This gradually grew less and then discontinued altogether, leaving a small red which soon dropped off, and now only a healthy little scar remains where what threatened to destroy my life once held full sway." Positively the only cure for Cancer is Swift's Specific.

Free medical advice. Men and women suffering from chronic diseases are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., by letter, absolutely without fee or charge. For more than thirty years as chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y., Doctor Pierce has devoted himself to the treatment and cure of chronic forms of disease. Assisted by his staff of nearly a score of physicians, each man a specialist, his success has been phenomenal, ninety-eight persons in every hundred treated being absolutely and altogether cured. Women have especially availed themselves of Dr. Pierce's offer of free consultation by letter, thereby avoiding the unpleasant questioning, the obnoxious examinations, and odious local treatments considered necessary by some practitioners. Over half a million women have been treated by Dr. Pierce and his staff for diseases peculiar to women, with unvarying success. Write without fear as without fee. Every letter is treated as strictly private and sacredly confidential, and all answers are in plain envelopes, bearing no printing upon them. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

RELIGIOUS.

Preaching at the Southern Presbyterian church Sunday at 11 a. m.

Rev. F. C. Button, of Morehead, on Sunday dedicated a Christian church at Corbin.

Revival services will begin at Springfield Presbyterian church at 11 a. m. Sunday.

Rev. Henry Miller will preach at Union school-house, Kiddville pike, at 3 p. m. Sunday.

There was a large attendance at Corinth ice cream supper on Friday night. Proceeds $48.

The protracted meeting at the New-town Christian church conducted by Eld. V. W. Dorris, closed with thirty-seven additions.

Rev. J. G. Eubank and wife, of Henry county, are in the city. He will preach for his flock, the Old Baptists, white in the city.

The Union Meeting will be held on next Sunday evening at the First Presbyterian Church. Rev. A. J. Arlick will preach the sermon.

At Millersburg the Baptist and Christian churches will be undergoing repairs the next few weeks. The Christian church will be frescoed and have new seats put in.

Rev. A. J. Arlick and wife are here to spend a few weeks with their many friends. He preached at the First Presbyterian Church on Sunday morning and during his stay will preach each Sunday. He is pastor of the Alliance Church in Louisville.

Rev. W. J. Bolin has been given a vacation by his church and he left Monday morning for Campbellsburg where he will conduct a meeting with the pastor of the Baptist church, Rev. J. W. Loving. Mr. Bolin will return and preach Sunday next or Rev. Loving will come in his place. From Campbellsburg Mr. Bolin will go to Tennessee where he will conduct a meeting and will be at home September 1st. He is also engaged to hold a meeting at Ewing in October.

By appointment, Rev. E. A. Fox, of Louisville, representing the Kentucky Sunday School Association (formerly union), met some of the Sunday-school workers on Sunday afternoon at the Christian Church. The attendance was small. W. R. Nunnally, ex-president of the Union in this county, called the meeting to order and introduced the speaker, who gave a brief review of the Association, its organization and efficiency in other States. When thoroughly organized each State will have County Associations, and each county will have magisterial district meetings. The International Association meets every third year and the World's Association every fourth year.

Using a chart he showed what constitute a Banner Sunday School: Enrollment, attendance, Church membership, complete records, normal class, graded school, Bible home department teachers' meeting, and evergreen school.

We can not go into detail, but the outlined plan, if carried into execution would result in great progress in Sunday-school work. The writer was present and much enjoyed the address.

No attempt was made to reorganize the Union in this county, which, from some cause, after a few years' existence, ceased to be. We regret that the Sunday schools were so poorly represented. If more than one superintendent was present we failed to see him. No doubt some persons present will profit by the talk of Mr. Fox and introduce into their schools some features suggested by him.

Orders for drugs and medicines from out of town are promptly attended to at Kennedy's drugstore.

The Excursion to Toront.

The Old Fellows excursion to Toronto and Natural Bridge on last Wednesday was a grand success in every way. About eight hundred tickets sold here and many more along the route. And strange though it may seem, the longer he stays, the more his business increases; and for the last three weeks there were some days that he found it absolutely impossible to wait on even half of the number wanting to be fitted with his celebrated Crown Spectacles. At the very time we write this article there are over 16 patients waiting in the parlor and in the hall for their turn to be waited on, and this after eleven weeks of being continuously busy is real surprising.

Hardly a day passes but that the Doctor receives some written testimonials from some of his many patrons here, expressing their gratitude to the Doctor for the benefits received by the aid of his Spectacles. Everybody is invited to come and read them.

PROHIBITION CONVENTION

At Louisville Names a Complete Ticket.

The State Prohibition Convention completed its work at Louisville on Wednesday. Mrs. Frances Brannan, of Lexington, was named temporary chairman. Temporary organization was made permanent.

The following ticket was nominated:
Governor—O. T. Waller, of Garrard county.
Lieutenant-Governor—W. H. Ziegler, of Jessamine county.
Secretary of State—W. M. Likins, of Ohio county.
Auditor—Rev. S. M. Bernard, of Louisville.

Treasurer—J. R. Pile, of Daviess county.

Attorney-General—J. H. Beauchamp, of Lexington.

Superintendent Public Instruction—G. E. Hancock, of Barbourville.
Commissioner of Agriculture—A. W. Carpenter, of Lincoln county.

THE PLATFORM.

The committee on resolutions reported the following platform:

First—We declare for the complete legal prohibition of the traffic in intoxicating beverages in all its forms.

Second—We believe that intelligence, patriotism, and an interest for the welfare of the country, and not sex, should be the qualifications for suffrage.

Third—We recognize the W. C. T. U. as our most faithful ally in our struggle for a sober citizenship.

Fourth—We demand the repeal of the odious Goebel election law.

Fifth—We denounce the maladministration of our State affairs, and invite all good citizens to unite with us at the polls in the election of the Prohibition ticket. We hold that every citizen who gives his allegiance to a license party becomes personally responsible for the inequities of the license system, and we exhort the Christian citizenship of Kentucky to come out from political parties dominated by the run traffic.

The reading of the resolution brought Mr. Denmore, of Jessamine county, to his feet. He wanted that part of the fifth clause which referred to the maladministration of State affairs stricken out, and in this he was supported by the majority of the delegates, which support resulted in the denouncing of the maladministration being stricken out, the rest of the resolution being allowed to stand, however, as read.

The platform was then adopted. The nominee for Auditor, Rev. S. M. Bernard, is pastor of the Parkland Christian Church. He was named by acclamation. He and Rev. John Sweeney, of Paris, Republican nominee, will contend for the mastery.

The nominee for Attorney-General is the husband of the chairman of the convention.

Scientific Opticians.

The eye is an extremely sensitive and delicate organ, and the man who has anything to do with it whatever must understand his business or it will suffer thereby. The most acceptable statements of a man's scientific knowledge and skillful treatment comes from those under the Doctor's charge. Hearsay is worth but little, for some how or other some men are forgetful and can't tell the same story with exactly the same meaning, but the man or woman who has been treated, has had glasses adjusted and is now wearing them makes no mistakes.

Last week twenty of our citizens told the people that Dr. Harraes had fitted their eyes with glasses; that they were giving perfect satisfaction. We name them: Mrs. M. R. Everett, J. Davis Sewell, Mrs. M. W. Chorn, L. T. Chiles, Mrs. P. Megnier, Miss Susan Cornett, Mrs. N. R. Ratliff, Mrs. G. E. Chick, Mrs. Henrietta Calk, Mrs. Addie Chiles, Mrs. S. B. Turner, T. F. Rogers, Mrs. E. A. Enoch, Mrs. J. L. Brawner, James W. Groves, C. F. Thomas, Miss Rannie S. Burroughs, Mrs. A. G. Aicher, Mrs. Bettie G. Davis and J. H. Brunner.

Irritating stings, bites, scratches, wounds and cuts—soothed and healed by DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve—a sure and safe application for tortured flesh. Beware of counterfeits.

P. L. Hensley lost his trotting horse, Billie Willie, at the Richmond fair last week. He was a good one—time on trial 27. He was entered in the 3-minute class, and seemed all right when started but fell behind and showed evidence of serious trouble. He died Wednesday evening. He was valued at $600.
